

Energy Auditing

In a time when cutting costs and saving energy has become a top priority, our DETAILED ENERGY AUDITING SERVICE can be more valuable than ever before.

Through an inspection of your facility, we will survey and analyze the energy usage in your building. During the inspection we will look for opportunities in which to reduce the amount of energy consumed. Our main concern is to find ways to save you money while maintaining or improving the health, safety, and comfort level of the occupants.

By identifying the sources of energy being consumed, we can then calculate potential energy savings and costs associated to achieve the identified savings opportunities.

We "guarantee" we can save you money!

Often, once the client has been presented with opportunities to save energy dollars, it is determined that a more detailed analysis is required in order to set into action a more long-term plan for increased cost-savings.

Not only can McCormick Facilities Management identify where you can save money, but we can then assist you in determining whether switching to an alternative energy source is right for your facility. We can then design and oversee construction of upgrades, improvements, and installation of new equipment to make sure your building is the most energy efficient it can be!
